ICFAI launches Mobile App

GANGTOK, 12 AUG
The Institute of Chartered Financial Analysts of India [ICFAI University] launched its mobile application today in the presence of Parliamentary Secretary for Human Resource Development, Shyam Pradhan, as chief guest at the Press of Club of Sikkim today.

In his address, Mr. Pradhan highlighted the importance of technology in creating wider opportunities for students. He spoke about how children these days have knowledge of gadgets and technologies, which he said would help them in today's technology driven world.

"We are somehow still lagging behind in the field of IT. Through this app, children and students will get an opportunity to update themselves with the latest information about technology and help them in their studies also. A lot of students seem enthusiastic in the field of software design and we are looking forward to see students come up with innovative projects in days to come," added Mr Pradhan.

Earlier, Head of Department [HOD] IT, Anil Chetri while introducing the app spoke about working towards fulfilling the demand for communication services in the state and contribute towards the Digital India mission.

Also present during the event was Vice Chancellor of ICFAI, Sonam Gyatso along with other staffs and students from the University.

MLA Shyam Pradhan launches ICFAI University Mobile App

NITA NIRASHI

Gangtok, August 12: MLA Shyam Pradhan, Parliamentary Secretary, HRDD, launched the Mobile App of ICFAI University, here today, in the presence of Vice Chancellor, Sonam Gyamtso.

Launching the App, MLA Shyam Pradhan, congratulated the faculty and students of ICFAI. He asserted that "The App developed by the University will benefit all the students. It is appreciable, others too should launch such Apps. The App with course plans, faculty details, question banks and some other details should be helpful. Earlier we had to go to Siliguri even for text books. This type of technology was not available."

He said the present children were far ahead of the grownups as far as the technology is concerned. He revealed that there are many students who want to start App, design web but lack funds and are scared of failure.

Head of Department, Information Technology, Anil Kumar Chettri, said that App was launched with the help of students. Introducing it he added, that in the present Digital era and Prime Minister, Narendra Modi's initiative, we should not lag behind. To grab the opportunity we have come up with the Mobile App for all, particularly students. The course material can be accessed here.

Earlier, Vice Chancellor, S. Gyamtso, welcoming the guests, described the launch as a special occasion. He said, "In the landlocked State the Railway and Air connectivity is not there. But we can have other connectivity i.e. Cyber Space connectivity, without any problem. This is something we would like to harness. Even the vegetable vendors have mobile phones these days. To connect everyone in the field of knowledge the App has been made ready. Students in other parts of the world connecting to Professors through App empower themselves." He appreciated Anil Chettri's successful efforts.

ICFAI is one of the 4 Private Universities in the State, with 400 students.
