

Enhancing Legal Research Skills: Manupatra Training Session 2025

Date: 18th March 2025

The Central Library of ICAFI University, Sikkim successfully conducted a comprehensive training session on Manupatra, aimed at enhancing the research skills of law students.

The session was conducted by Mr. Abhishek Ghosh, a distinguished resource person from the Manupatra regional office in Guwahati. A total of 143 students from the Law Department actively participated in the training, which provided them with an in-depth understanding of the features and functionalities of the Manupatra platform—an essential tool for legal research.

Mr. Ghosh meticulously covered various aspects of the platform, focusing on effective search techniques, advanced search functionalities, citation search methods, and ways to maximize the utility of Manupatra in both academic and professional legal research. The session was highly insightful and equipped students with the necessary skills to navigate the platform efficiently, thereby enhancing their legal research capabilities.

The feedback from the participants was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing that the session significantly improved their understanding of legal research tools.

The Central Library of ICAFI University, Sikkim is grateful for the opportunity to host such an enriching session. We believe this training will have a lasting impact on the students, empowering them with better research skills and knowledge to aid in their legal studies and future careers.