

The ICFAI University Sikkim Organizes Orientation on Client Counselling for First-Semester Law Students

Gangtok, September 12, 2025:

The School of Legal Studies, ICFAI University Sikkim, successfully conducted an Orientation Program on Client Counselling for the first-semester students of BA.LLB, BBA.LLB, and LLB.

The session was graced by Ms. Sandhya Rani Pant, Deputy Registrar, along with the Head of Department and faculty members of the School of Legal Studies.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. Rinchen Tamang, Assistant Professor School of Legal Studies, highlighted the vital role of client counselling in the legal profession. He emphasized how effective client interaction and counselling skills form the backbone of professional development for aspiring lawyers.

Adding to the session, Ms. Gungun Sharma, a seventh-semester BA.LLB student and Student Convenor of the Client Counselling Club, delivered an insightful presentation introducing the objectives and activities of the club, encouraging first-semester students to participate actively.

The program concluded with an interactive discussion, leaving students motivated to hone their communication and counselling skills as an essential part of their legal education.

Total 19 students joined on the first day for the membership drive.
