The Ministry of Social Justice & Empowerment organized a national-level celebration marking five years of the Nasha Mukht Bharat Abhiyaan on at Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar. The live broadcast of the programme was witnessed by students of various departments at The ICFAI University, Sikkim. The University arranged a collective viewing session to ensure that students could benefit from the insights and messages delivered during the event. Ms. Sandhya R. Pant, Deputy Registrar, and Mr. Kishore Rai, Assistant Professor, were present with the students throughout the session. Their presence added value to the event as they encouraged the students to understand the significance of drug-free living, youth responsibility, and the long-term impact of substance abuse on society.

During the live event, national speakers highlighted the achievements of the Nasha Mukht Bharat Abhiyaan over the past five years, showcasing community participation, rehabilitation support, and youth-led initiatives across the country. Inspiring success stories were shared, emphasizing the collective role of educational institutions in promoting awareness and guiding young minds toward healthier lifestyles. Students of ICFAI University actively engaged with the content and expressed that the session helped them better understand the importance of preventive awareness, mental health consciousness, and leadership in creating a drug-free society.

The University's participation in this live national event underscores its commitment to supporting social responsibility initiatives and fostering a positive and safe campus environment. The involvement of faculty and administrative officials further motivated students to remain informed, aware, and responsible citizens contributing to the vision of a Nasha Mukht Bharat.
