

CELEBRATION OF NATIONAL CONSTITUTION DAY ORGANIZED BY THE SCHOOL OF LEGAL STUDIES, THE ICFAI UNIVERSITY, SIKKIM-2024

Date: 26th November 2024

The School of Legal Studies at The ICFAI University, Sikkim, celebrated National Constitution Day under the inspiring theme, "Hamara Samvidhan, Tumhara Samman". The event brought together law students and Heads of Departments from various Schools, along with Dr. Rohit Rathi, Registrar, to commemorate the adoption of the Indian Constitution and its enduring principles.

The program commenced with the National Anthem, led by Ms. Soni Subedi, the Head of the Department (HOD) of Legal Studies. Following this, all attendees took a solemn pledge to uphold the values and principles enshrined in the Constitution, reaffirming their commitment to justice, equality, and democracy.

The event featured insightful presentations by students from different semesters, who shed light on various aspects of the Indian Constitution:

- Miss.Chunry Tamin (5th Semester, BA.LLB) opened the discussions by explaining the significance of celebrating Constitution Day, emphasizing its role in promoting constitutional awareness and values.
- Mr.Kinchok N. Bhutia (5th Semester, LL.B) provided a detailed interpretation of the Preamble of the Constitution, highlighting its guiding principles and vision for India.
- Miss.Ghanapriya Konthoujam (9th Semester, BBA.LLB) elaborated on the Fundamental Rights, underlining their importance in safeguarding individual freedoms and ensuring equality.

- Miss.Auskha Sapkota (7th Semester, BA.LLB) discussed the Fundamental Duties of citizens, stressing their role in fostering national harmony and responsibility.
- Mr.Karma Tsheten Phuntshok (3rd Semester, LL.B) delivered an engaging talk on Basic Human Rights, linking them to the universal principles of justice and dignity.
- Miss.Muskan Limboo (7th Semester, BA.LLB) delivered an inspiring speech on the life and contributions of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, the architect of the Indian Constitution, highlighting his vision for social justice and equality.

Following the Event, A proud moment for the department was the recognition of Mr. Bishal Thakur (7th Semester, BA.LLB), who was honored for his exceptional achievement. He had recently presented a research paper titled “Uniform Civil Code: Constitutional Aspirations & Gender Justice” at the National Research Paper Writing Competition - Visionary for Viksit Bharat @2047, organized by SGT University, Haryana, on 15th November 2024

The celebration was a testament to the commitment of The ICFAI University, Sikkim, in fostering legal awareness and constitutional values among its students. The event successfully combined academic rigor with a sense of national pride, leaving the audience inspired and informed about the essence of the Indian Constitution.
